

Andy Watt

An Exhibition of illustration Chenderit School Middleton Cheney Oxfordshire

"Andy Watt has been a published illustrator since 1998. His work has appeared in magazines, newspapers, books and advertising campaigns around the world. He has created animated character designs for television, and been a regular contributor to The Guardian, The Times, and The Independent amongst others. This exhibition, full of insight and dark humour, is the artist's first solo show and a fabulous opportunity to begin to understand how this unique work is created. The exhibition is open until Thursday 30th March. The Gallery is open in school hours, Monday to Friday 9.00am to 4.30pm."
