Explanatory notes for subject teachers

1. Students are expected to do 5 hours of homework per subject per week. Where a course is taught by more than one teacher, homework set should be divided appropriately between teachers.
2. Some of this homework will be 'set work' and some will be 'self-directed independent study'.
 - In Y12 and Y13 at least 3 hours of homework will be set by the teacher for each subject each week and will be assessed and marks should be recorded.
 - Each student will be given a CWA grade for the homework that has just been assessed each week.
 - A preparatory reading homework might be assessed by a comprehension test
 - A consolidation homework might be assessed by using a file check proforma
3. Homework tasks should be differentiated for different ability levels and deconstructed into sub-tasks.
 - Ideally each sub-task should not take longer than 30 minutes.
4. Homework tasks that extend over several weeks should have interval assessments to enable a quantitative assessment of progress.
5. All homework tasks set should be recorded in planners/organisers each week.
6. Each week homework should include the opportunity to do the following:
 - Consolidate, organise and condense class notes
 - Redo and improve upon previously assessed work
 - Research new knowledge and prepare for upcoming lessons
 - Rehearse skills acquired in lessons to establish mastery
 - Develop independent learning skills – independent enquiry, reflection, collaboration, organisation and target setting.
7. Homework tasks should be varied in task and outcome.
8. Homework tasks should be available for download from the Chenderit Learning Hub.

Non-completion of homework

Homework set should be manageable; extensions should only be given in exceptional circumstances and be supported by an e-mail / note from parents /carers. Each time an extension is given the students tutor and parent should be informed by e-mail.

Extensions to deadlines must be arranged more than 24 hours before the deadline unless absence on the day of the deadline prevents submission.

Deadlines should be given clearly at the time homework is set – normally 1 week for completion.

If a student misses a deadline without having arranged an extension, parents and tutor should be contacted and a catch-up session arranged. The lack of homework must be recorded on SIMS.

Students should not expect work handed in after a deadline to be marked.

Homework submitted that is not commensurate with or shows evidence of progress towards the student's target grade should be returned to the student with feedback for improvement.
